

The Theological Meaning of Evolution

7pm Thursday 25 June–5pm Sat 27 June

A conference to celebrate and interact with Darwinism, on the 200th anniversary of Darwin's birth and the 150th anniversary of On the Origin of Species.

What impact has evolution had on the world and on belief? How does Darwinism challenge traditional Christian faith? What does evolution really mean in a theological sense? How has evolution changed and challenged theology and what can theology contribute to the conversation surrounding human origins and meaning.

Keynote Speaker – Christopher Southgate, Research Fellow University of Exeter, theologian, poet and editor, and author of The Groaning of Creation.

With local speakers including:

John Stenhouse (Otago)
Ruth Barton (Auckland)
Peter Lineham (Massey)

Grant Gillett (Otago)
John Owens (Good Shepherd College)
Neil Broom (Auckland)
Stephen Downs (Flinders)

Robert Mann (Auckland)
Hugh Bowron (Holy Trinity, Chch)
Theologians from Laidlaw College and Carey Baptist College

Venue

Laidlaw College
Auckland Campus
80 Central Park Drive
Henderson, Waitakere

Registrations by 15 June

Ioana Maier
Email imaier@laidlaw.ac.nz

Download registration form at www.tyndale-carey.ac.nz

For more Information

Nicola Hoggard Creegan
Email nicolahc@laidlaw.ac.nz
Phone 09 8379762

Conference Costs

$100 for three days including meals; $45 for students or low employment; $20 a morning or afternoon or evening session; discounts for those travelling from other centres. Send check/visa info, name, contact details and institution to:
TANSA, Ioana Maier, Laidlaw College, Private Bag 93104, Henderson, Waitakere 0650